From the Editor . . .

From the Editor . . .

Hi Fellow Golfers! I hope you all had a great Christmas and New Year.

Unfortunately again, the weather has not been kind to us over the last couple of weeks, with both extreme heat and then rain, we have had it all.

The Ham and Turkey day was well attended and an enjoyable day. The Annual Trophy Presentations were made whilst lunch was served and this worked well, but unfortunately as in previous years there were still a number of recipients of trophies not there to collect them.

Thanks also to Heather and her team of helpers for once again providing a great lunch.

The program for the 2015 Pennant Season has just been announced and again we have 5 Teams nominated.

Don't forget the Autumn Classic is only 6 weeks away so it is time to organise your team for the day.

Wishing you all the best for 2015 and hope your golf game continues to improve.

If you have any news items, stories, achievements etc. please drop them in the putter box on the bar or e-mail me at ryeates@senet.com.au.

Until next month, good golfing.

Junior Report

Hi all,

There were 6 Juniors on Sunday, 14th December. Two had not been before and are likely to return. We have scheduled one clinic per month until the cold weather sets in. Juniors at 3pm with a session for ladies at 2pm and 4pm. Billy Cawthorne will try to attend when possible to help out. We also had 8 ladies participating. There were 2 cancellations so Heather and I stepped out. Warren can do another session at 2pm which we will be taking up, as I am sure we will have the numbers. No new people so far, but a couple who have joined the Wednesday Comp since the last clinic and another couple who are likely to join the Wednesday Comp or Twilight. Husbands of two will start Twilight after a long break. I have had a couple of requests from male members for coaching. We are happy to organise this. Perhaps before Twilight or in conjunction with the Sunday group.

All in all we are happy with progress so far. Regards,

Esther and Jamie
Junior Co-Ordinators

What's The Nail For?

Carol, a blonde city girl, marries a Cornish dairy farmer.

One morning, on his way out to check on the cows, farmer John says to Carol, 'The insemination man is coming over to impregnate one of our cows today. I drove a nail into the rail above the cow's stall in the barn. You show him where the cow is when he gets here, OK?'

So then the farmer leaves for the fields.

After a while, the insemination man arrives and knocks on the front door.

Carol takes him down to the barn. They walk along the row of cows and when she sees the nail, she tells him, 'This is the one...right here.'

Terribly impressed by what he seemed to think just might be another ditzy blonde, the man asks: 'Tell me lady, how did you know this is the cow to be bred?'

'That's simple; by the nail over its stall', Carol explains very confidently.

Then the man asks, 'What's the nail for?'

She turns and starts to walk away and with complete confidence, says over her shoulder,

'I assume it's to hang your trousers on.'

Flashback!

On the Course...and around the Clubhouse...

15 Years agoThe Origins of Golf..???

Did you know the Romans played with a ball of leather stuffed with feathers, called Paganica, and the golf ball is composed of the same materials to this day. In the reign of Edward III(AD 1327-77) the Latin name, Cambuca, was applied to this pastime, and it derived the denomination , no doubt, from the crooked club or bat with which it was played..

Joseph Strutt (1749-1803)

Must have been some long waits on the tees over the holidays... . Noticed some players had been making sandcastles in the sand holders

From the January 2000 Putter

5 Years ago“What was that!!!!!!!”

Strange conversation heard as I walked down the 8th fairway on Saturday 2nd January. “Hey Lloyd, have you seen my teeth?”

Lloyd’s response, “No ---- why?”

“They were in my pocket, but they are not there now. I sometimes take them out when I play my tee shot, but I am not sure when I last took them out. I think I had them in when I played the 6th.”

ONLY AUSSIES

Being Australian
is about driving in a German car
to an Irish pub
for a Belgian beer,
then on the way home, grabbing an Indian curry
or a Turkish kebab, to sit on Swedish furniture and watch American shows on a Japanese TV.

Oh and....

Only in Australia ...
can a pizza get to your house faster than an ambulance.

Only in Australia ...
do supermarkets make sick people walk all the way to the back of the shop to get their prescriptions while healthy people can buy cigarettes at the front.

Only in Australia ...
do people order double cheeseburgers, large fries
and a DIET coke.

Only in Australia ...
do banks leave both doors wide open and chain the pens to the counters.

Only in Australia ...
do we leave cars worth thousands of dollars in the driveway and lock our junk and cheap lawn mower
in the garage.

NOT TO MENTION....

3 Aussies die each year
testing if a 9v battery works on their tongue.

58 Aussies are injured each year
by using sharp knives instead of screwdrivers.

31 Aussies have died since 1996
by watering their Christmas tree while the fairy lights were plugged in.

8 Aussies had serious burns in 2000
trying on a new jumper with a lit cigarette in their mouth.

A massive 543 Aussies
were admitted to Emergency in the last two years after opening bottles of beer with their teeth.

and finally.....

In 2000 eight Aussies cracked their skull
whilst throwing up into the toilet.

Lost Ball

THERE is a common misconception that a player may declare their ball lost, either to indicate that they intend to play out the hole with another ball played provisionally, or that they are going back to the place that they made their last stroke from, under penalty of stroke and distance.

Please believe me when I say that nothing a player says will render their ball lost. Decision 27/6 from the Rules of Golf helps to clarify this statement:

Q. A player searched for his ball for two minutes, declared it lost and started back to play another ball at the spot from which the original ball was played. Before he put another ball into play, his original ball was found within the five-minute period allowed for search. What is the ruling?

A. A player cannot render a ball lost by a declaration — see Definition of "Lost Ball." The original ball remained in play — see Definition of "Ball in Play."

The definition of 'Lost Ball' lists the only circumstances under which a ball can be lost:

A BALL IS DEEMED "LOST" IF:

- a. It is not found or identified as his by the player within five minutes after the player's side or his or their caddies have begun to search for it; or
- b. The player has made a stroke at a provisional ball from the place where the original ball is likely to be or from a point nearer the hole than that place (see Rule 27-2b); or
- c. The player has put another ball into play under penalty of stroke and distance (see Rule 27-1a); or
- d. The player has put another ball into play because it is known or virtually certain that the ball, which has not been found, has been moved by an outside agency (see Rule 18-1), is in an obstruction (see Rule 24-3), is in an abnormal ground condition (see Rule 25-1c) or is in a water hazard (see Rule 26-1); or
- e. The player has made a stroke at a substituted ball.

Time spent in playing a wrong ball is not counted in the five-minute period allowed for search.

Of course, the correct thing to do if you definitely do not want to search for your original ball is to put another ball into play as quickly as possible, without declaring it as a provisional ball.

Remember that on the teeing ground you have to wait until all the players in the group have played before you play your second ball from the tee. Once you have made a stroke at another ball, under penalty of stroke and distance, it does not matter if your original ball is then found, as it is no longer the ball in play.

Supposing a player hits his ball into an area of dense undergrowth from which he would rather not play his next stroke. But before he has a chance to put another ball into play a spectator shouts out that he has found a ball in the area which the original ball was heading.

Can the player refuse to identify the ball and put another ball in play, thus rendering the original ball lost? Decision 27/13 states a fellow competitor, or opponent, has the right to be satisfied about the identification of a player's ball.

So, if a player purposely refuses to identify his ball before putting another ball into play the Committee would be justified in imposing a penalty of disqualification under Rule 33-7.

I hope that this has clarified the earlier statement that nothing a player says can render a ball lost under the Rules of Golf.
